Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1,3 and 5-30 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1,2,4-8 and 24-26 of copending Application No. 10/900,556. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the difference between two set of claims is the claimed fibrous substrate (ii) in claim 1 is coated by the claimed a) and b) components in claim 1 of the reference, corresponding to the claimed a) and b) of the instant claim 1 to form coatings of the instant claim 1.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to select reactants and the substrate in the claims of the reference within the limitation of the instant claims since they have been shown to be effective in a similar system and thus would have been expected to provide adequate results. There is no showing of unexpected results derived from said selection.

Claims 1,3 and 5-30 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1,3-4,7-8,24-26,36-44 and 46-57 of copending Application No. 10/900,557. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the only difference is the instant claim 1 is the combination of claims 1 and 50-55 of the reference. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine claims 1 and 50-55 of the reference to form the instant claim 1 in the absence of a showing of unexpected results derived from said combination.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
